

Reminder: This week with Canada Life

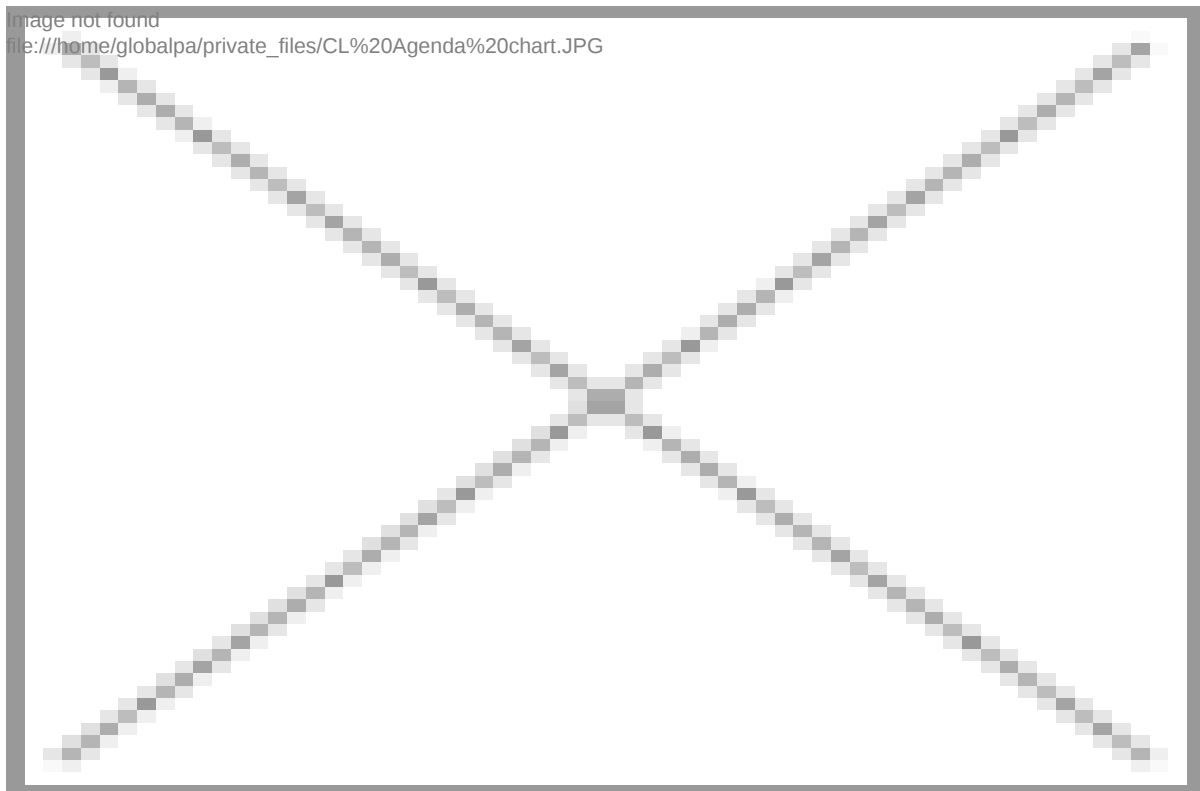

Submitted by Victoria on April 8, 2020 - 10:12am

Take this opportunity to join thousands of your peers to stay up to date on the ongoing COVID-19 situation and hear from experts across our organization on things like market conditions, business impacts, operations updates and health and wellness and ask any questions you have about how they're impacting your business and your clients.

Join us today at 3 p.m. EST to learn how Canada Life is here for you and your clients from this week's special guest, Jeff Macoun, President and COO, Canada.

This week's agenda is as follows:

Don't forget, you'll also have the opportunity to ask any questions you may have at the end of the call. However, we do receive a high volume of questions and while we try our best to answer as many as we can in the call, we can't get to them all.

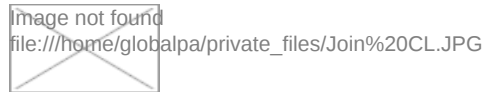

How to join

Use the following link to join the call:

- You'll need to register to join the call. To do so, enter your first name, last name and email address. You'll have to do this every week
- You can then join the call 15 minutes before it starts
- If you can't make the call, you can listen to it afterwards using the link provided above. The recording should be available 2 hours after the call ends

Note: if you joined the live call using your name and email address but want to listen to the recording after the call ends, you'll need to select "login here" since the system will recognize that your email address has already been used.

Use the following link to join the call:

Source URL: <https://trustglobalpacific.com/bulletins/canada-life/2020-04-08/reminder-week-canada-life>